

Woolworths farming for the future milestones 2014 - 2021

	2004 - 2008  Programme piloted with 12 suppliers	2009  Official launch with 80 primary and 12 secondary suppliers	2010 Finalist in the Agriculture category for the Mail and Guardian Greening the Future Awards
2011 70% of primary produce suppliers certified Horticulture suppliers added to the programme	2012 95% of primary fresh produce suppliers certified Wine suppliers added to the programme	2013 Awarded the Sustainability Business Award within the Trade and Services Category in the inaugural Nedbank Capital Sustainable Business Awards	2014  98% of primary fresh produce suppliers certified
2015 98% of primary produce, horticulture and 40% of wine suppliers certified 141 primary and 92 secondary suppliers assessed	2016  Water Footprint Index methodology finalised	2017 Stanford PhD research study lauds the Farming for the Future programme for significant impact on uptake of good farm management practices	2018 331 suppliers assessed, of which 195 are secondary suppliers
2019 52% of core fresh produce and horticulture products certified 483 suppliers on the programme, of which 304 are secondary suppliers	2020 54% of Woolworths core produce and horticulture products certified Training module for small-scale farmers piloted	2021 58% OF PRIMARY PRODUCE AND HORTICULTURE LINES CERTIFIED Farmers commenced implementation of an integrated pest-management programme, and moved over to biological products	